

James Bouchard

I play guitars and sing mostly, and keyboards, and various and sundry things. I try to cover a lot of ground in my music because I like a lot of different things. My older brothers were in the Blue Oyster Cult while I was at art school. They don't play in that band now and I don't paint much either. Tempus Fugit!

I also played in a band called Union Label in the Boston, MA area with some good musicians and friends and click to go to their page. We're sort of inactive now, but may do the occasional gig when John the bass player is back in town...

But first check out my Garageband songs and enjoy the new rating feature MacIdol provides in the jamroom.

Also I'm currently in a duo with Kelli King called The Fritters and if you click here right here![/url] that takes you to the Fritters Jamroom and you will find some of our songs as we are re-uploading them when they get finished more polished mixes!
